

Course Title	BUSINESS FINANCE I
Course Code	FIN 221
Course Purpose and Objectives	The purpose of this course is to deliver to students a comprehensive knowledge of the current financial environment in which business decisions are made, demonstrate the concept of Cost of Capital and Financial Leverage as well as apply these concepts in the determination of the Optimal Capital Structure.
Learning Outcomes	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Identify the current financial environment in which business decisions are made. 2. Identify the role, function and users of financial statements. 3. Explain the meaning of the primary financial statements, their contents and limitations. 4. Explain basic time value methodology and traditional evaluation techniques of capital budgeting analysis. 5. Apply basic time value methodology and traditional evaluation techniques of capital budgeting analysis.
Course Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduction to finance • Financial accounting statements and their interpretation • Value and capital budgeting • Risk • Corporate structure and dividend policy • Long term financing • Options, futures, and corporate finance • Financial planning and short-term finance • Corporation restructuring